

Rev. Dr. Steffie Bartley, Sr., born and raised in Newark New Jersey is an anointed and appointed man “sent by God.” Pursuing the call on his life, he was ordained a preacher of the Gospel of Jesus Christ in Rocky Mount, North Carolina and where he studied and graduated from The Shaw University Divinity School in Raleigh. Pastor Bartley later received his Doctor of Ministry degree in 2010.

Rev. Bartley is the senior pastor of The New Hope Memorial Baptist Church in the City of Elizabeth and a well-respected clergy leader in his community and abroad. Pastor Bartley is a man of vision and execution. He is the founder and CEO of The New Hope Memorial Community Development Corporation and The New Hope Memorial Childcare Center. He serves on the Juvenile Task Force for New Jersey with Governor Phil Murphy, Board Member of National Action Network (NAN-New York City/Rev. Al Sharpton) Northeast Regional Coordinator for NAN N.J. Chapters, CEO & founder - NAN Newark Tech World, Harlem NAN Tech Lab and the NAN Tech Bus, all initiatives bridging the generational gap of technology in urban communities. Pastor Bartley also serves as Chaplain to the City of Newark Police Department, community liaison to Attorney General, State of N.J. Police Diversity & Inclusion initiative, member of the Body Camera Advisory Committee and instrumental in The Gun Buy-Back Program for Union County.

Pastor Bartley is happily married to Lady Harriet Bartley. They are blessed with six children and three grandsons.
